1. Purpose

This policy establishes the Company's health and dental benefit arrangements, including eligibility, coverage percentages, annual limits, waiting periods, documentation requirements, and claim administration.

2. Eligibility

Benefit coverage is available only to employees who are actively employed and enrolled in an applicable Company benefit plan. Coverage is determined by the plan recorded for the employee and by the effective dates of that enrollment.

3. Benefit Plans

Plan	Coverage	Annual Limit
Basic Health Plan	70% of eligible health expenses	IDR 10.000.000
Standard Health Plan	80% of eligible health expenses	IDR 20.000.000
Premium Health Plan	90% of eligible health expenses	IDR 30.000.000
Executive Health Plan	100% of eligible health expenses	IDR 50.000.000
Standard Dental Plan	80% of eligible dental expenses	IDR 5.000.000

The applicable plan record determines the coverage available to an employee. An employee may only claim benefits included in the employee's enrolled plan.

4. Covered Services and Eligibility

Health claims must relate to eligible healthcare expenses covered by the employee's health plan. Dental claims are eligible only where the employee is enrolled in a plan that provides dental coverage.

The Company does not treat enrollment in a health plan as automatic eligibility for every type of medical expense. The nature of the service and the employee's plan coverage must be confirmed as part of claim review.

5. Waiting Period

A claim is eligible only after the employee has completed a waiting period of 30 calendar days from the benefit effective date. The waiting period must be satisfied by the claim date.

6. Coverage Calculation

For an eligible claim, the covered amount is calculated by applying the applicable plan's coverage percentage to the claim amount.

Example

A Premium Health Plan provides 90% coverage. For an eligible claim of IDR 2,000,000, the covered amount before application of the remaining annual limit is IDR 1,800,000.

7. Annual Benefit Limit

Each benefit plan has an annual maximum. The remaining annual benefit limit is the annual plan limit less the amount already used during the applicable benefit year.

A claim is eligible only where the covered amount does not exceed the remaining annual limit. The Company will not automatically increase the plan limit or create an additional entitlement when the annual limit has been exhausted.

7.1 Illustrative Remaining Limits

Plan	Annual Limit	Example Used Amount	Example Remaining
Basic Health Plan	IDR 10.000.000	IDR 2.500.000	IDR 7.500.000
Standard Health Plan	IDR 20.000.000	IDR 4.200.000	IDR 15.800.000
Premium Health Plan	IDR 30.000.000	IDR 8.500.000	IDR 21.500.000
Executive Health Plan	IDR 50.000.000	IDR 18.000.000	IDR 32.000.000
Standard Dental Plan	IDR 5.000.000	IDR 1.100.000	IDR 3.900.000

The figures above are examples for illustration. An employee's actual remaining limit is determined from the current Company benefits record.

8. Documentation

A medical document or equivalent supporting documentation is required for benefit claims where documentation is requested by the Company. Documentation should substantiate the service or treatment date, the nature of the expense, and the amount claimed.

9. Claim Submission and Review

Employees must submit complete claims with accurate dates, amounts, benefit type, and supporting documentation. Claims are reviewed against the employee's enrolled benefit plan, effective dates, applicable waiting period, coverage percentage, and remaining annual limit before approval.

10. Responsibilities

- Employees are responsible for accurate claim submission and supporting documentation.
- Human Resources is responsible for benefit administration, policy interpretation, and exception handling.
- Approved claims are recorded against the relevant annual benefit utilization for the applicable policy year.

11. Exceptions and Administration

Any exception to plan terms must be approved by Human Resources and, where applicable, the plan administrator. This policy does not amend an employee's underlying plan terms unless the change is formally approved and documented.
